will show that the fiscal year ended June 45% 30 last was the banner one in the history of the company, and that the surplus after paying charges has been exceeded only twice since the formation of the system.

The gross operating revenues in the twelve months amounted to $57,295,000, 96% an increase of $5,633,000; expenses, $38,-636,000, an increase of $3,483,000, and net operating income, $16,698,000, a gain of $1,938,000. Figuring in charges and other income estimated on the basis of the actual figures for the first six months, there remains a net surplus of around $4,440,000. In 1906 the company earned $5,229,000, and in 1905 $5,152,000.

These were the best years in point of surplus the road ever had. In 1908 the bers of the New York Stock Exchange, Hibbs Buildbalance after charges almost disappeared, being reduced to $402,000, but in the year following this was brought up to $3,511,000.
